Departing the Warburton bakery at 0730hrs, we headed up the Reefton Spur and along the Warburton-Woods point Rd. It wasn't long before reaching the first sign of snow. With the recent snow falls around Melbourne, this area has also received quite an amount. After a few warm days, there were still patches of snow in pockets isolated from the sun.

Morning tea was at the toilet block at The Triangle. It was quite cold, with a light breeze and snow falling.

From here we headed over to Matlock Hill and down to Mt.Selma Rd. Missing the turn off due to the many signs indicating it was a logging area. A short distance down the road, a quick U turn was made and onto Mt.Selma Rd. As we traveled north, the snow was noticeably getting less and less.

We arrived at the Road Closed sign, which was at the shire boarder and considerably further south than normal. Another group of four wheel drives in front of us, also of the hope to get to Mt.Skene turned around. We returned to Connors Plain where we had lunch.

After lunch we headed out via Abberfeldy, stopping at Erica for afternoon tea and returning home via Moe in the afternoon.

Although a shorter day than planned, all had a great time and traveled along some very slippery roads.
